

F3 SOLUTIONS BY ROLE – SOLUTION ARCHITECT

DERIVATIVES SOLUTIONS FOR SOLUTION ARCHITECTS

You are responsible for supporting the growth of the business by turning needs and requirements into a technical solution. In determining the best strategy, you need to identify the most efficient use of existing resources, the challenges in dealing with integration and consideration of your company's architecture when evaluating third-party solutions.

Find out how F3's flexible design makes meeting requirements straightforward and the integration process highly efficient.

STREAMLINING THE EVALUATION PHASE

- ◆ FINCAD's team of Software Engineers, Derivatives Analysts and Quantitative Engineers work closely with your team to show you exactly how F3 can meet your specific requirements.
- ◆ F3 empowers your organization by giving you building blocks that enable you to expand your use at any time, often without the need for programming, so as new business requirements arise, you can quickly and easily accommodate them.

STRAIGHTFORWARD IMPLEMENTATION

- ◆ F3 was designed with a highly flexible and elegant architecture that ensures a smooth integration into your existing infrastructure.
- ◆ Get your organization up and running quickly. Unlike the drawn out process associated with most vendors which can entail months of customized work and expensive consulting services, F3 can be implemented quickly and at a fraction of the cost.
- ◆ FINCAD's technical experts will work closely with you before and after implementation to make sure you have the efficiency, accuracy and stability you require.

With F3 you can move forward with confidence knowing that you have a solution catered to your exact requirements that can be implemented efficiently and grow with your organization.
